44 THE MAY MAY 27, 1897.

It is said that the Weather Bureau is conducting various experiments with kites in the hope of making the foreeasts better than ever-before. What the people want is better weather rather

Mr. Balley displaced Congressman Simpson and attempted to run things in the House Thursday, but met with no better specess than the Kaneas states tirely disagreeable incident among that

A. Washington correspondent writethat more than one Senator has, stated that he was influenced to vote for the belligerency resolution against his better Indement by the applause in the walleres. It might be well for the American people to crowd the galleries during the tariff debate and see if they cannot hasten a vote on a question involving the prosperity of the country.

Senator Halo in answering the charge that the opponents of the, belligerency resolution were fillbustering very apily haracterized this statement from Senstor Gallinger as an exhibition of "colossal check." Mr. Morgan has occupied the time of the Senate for several weeks in a erial speech advocating the resolution to say nothing of numerous other long the same side of the controversy, while comparatively little time has been occupled by the opponents of the resolution.

The tariff is a tax upon the consumer, declared the New York World editorially, but its mews columns furnish the following bit of contradictory evidence: It is announced that a large German manufacturing coopany has purchased a tract of 669 acres on the line of the Amboy division of the Rensylvania Rall-road, near Spotswood, N. J., ten milea from New Brunswick. On this tract will be founded a town. The company is to creet manufactories which will employ about 4,000 (bands. The name of the firm tsiwithheldby its representatives, who state that the plant is to be creeted in this country to escape the triff dube started within two or, three

"It would be usoless to waste acy unductsympathy on King George if the Hetwirls declies to turn him out. For he has never really considered himself anything else than, a bird of passage at Athors, regarding Copenhagen as his real home, and it is there that he has built a magnificent palace, where all his art treasures and domestic belongings have been stored. Moreover, lea has managed willte at Athors to win, an ecormous fortune. He levent there i thirty-four years ago with scarcely a cent' in his pocket, his family being so poor that his elsteri—the present dowager Empress of Russia, the Princess of Wales, and the Duchess of Cumberland—were forced, through motives of economy, to make through motives of economy, to make their owe hats and freeks. To day he is admittedly one of the weathliest sever-cigns of Europe; and Insamuch as, his fortune has certainly not been saved out of his civil list, which is so small that of his civil list, which is so small that during the first twenty years of hisrelguthe great powers were induced in a sheer spirit of commiscration to contribute $100,000 more to his. Greek annual supend, it naturally follows that there must no some truth in the stories current at Athens, according to which king George made millions by speculation in American wheat in confunction with the late Gen. Mercdith Road, at, the time when the Turke-Russian war of 1876-77-had the effect of closing both the port and the grain markets of Odessa,"

Let us do our work in the United States and there will not be an idle men beneath our day. According to Mulhall, the great English statistician, the United States produces nearly one-third of all the manufactured products in the world. These figures are undoubtedly approximately orrect, says the American All our manufactures, or the equivalent of them, we consume ourselves. That ls, we consume one-third as much in manufactures as all the rest of the world. In other words, our home mar-ket is one-third as great as the markets of all the rest of the world, including both their imports and their consumittion of home manufactures. The population has his office and residence at 242 State of the world, leaving ourseters out, is Street, where he will pay special atten-about 1,300,000,000. We consume, then, if on to the treatment of diseases of the in manufactures, as much as nearly kye, Kar, and Throat, 500,000,600 of the other people of the earth. Belore these facts further proof of President McKinley's statement, as given above, is unnecessary. "Our work" is equal to what would be required by half the population of the rest of the world. That is en ugh to keep every man and womandin the country busy. And it will keep busy every one who is willing to work, when we get the chance to do our own work, as we will under protection.

Peru Falls into Line for Gold. The Chicago Times-Herald asys: The deerco of the President of Peru susbeudlag silver coleage in that country as just been received at the State De-Pera is one of the greatest of silver producing countries, ranking accordionly as Mexico. Its mint has been in existcoce over three hundred years, having been established in 1505, and the columne. of silver is estimated by Muhleman have been at an average of 6,000,000 perce per annum, or 1,800,000,000 perce for 300 years. The perce is about one dollar in value. The most of this coin has been exported, and prior to the great fall in the price of silver was Peru's most valued export. "

For many years, and particularly since the Chilean war. Peru has been substantially bankrupt and its finances badly disordered. The standard was sliver, the sol-one dollar-being the unit of value. But a depreclated paper currency has driven this out of circulation, Ira relation to aliver having been stone time about 35 to 1—that is, 35 sols in paper is equivalent in value to I soltin sliver.

The Peruvian financial experience ought to present a fine lesson to the doctors of a flat currency, who think that all that is necessary to provide a people with plenty of money, and consequent prosperity, is for a government to set its printing presses in operation and stamp its paper as legal tender money. Peru, Has many other governments in history, has tried that policy and his come to inevitable backruptey in consequence. President Perola has at last entered spon a drastic reform, and intends to bring the financial system of Peru Into parity with that of the leading commercial nations of the world.
